Yesterday's Happenings Under the Great White Dome at Washington.

The Philippine tariff measure was heatedly debated in the House yesterday.

An effort was made to bring up the Schley resolution yesterday in the House out of order.

Postmaster-General Smith has tendered his resignation. It was accepted and Henry C. Payne appointed in his stead.

Representative Wheeler of Kentucky has introduced a resolution to investigate the conduct of Rear-Admiral Schley from the time he took command of the Flying Squadron up to and including the destruction of the Spanish fleet, July 3, 1898.

The Officers Failed to Find Their Man.

The west-bound train last night was searched by a posse of Reno officers. Chief of Police Brown received a telegram from Chief of Police Hilton of Salt Lake City, asking him to arrest James R. Hay.

The latter was said to have $3,800 in gold, presumably stolen. A reward of $100 was offered for his arrest.

A man answering the description was found, but his clothes were stamped "Fav Butler." After some hesitation the officers decided to not arrest the man.

THE FUTURE OF TONOPAH

It Promises to Become a Second Comstock.

MUCH has been said and written of the wonderful mining camp of Tonopah, but were people to write and talk till doomsday the half would not be told. To thoroughly appreciate the wonderful possibilities of Tonopah the seeker after information must visit the camp and see for himself.

The traveler who desires to go to Tonopah from Reno purchases a ticket over the V. & T. and C. & C. to Sodaville for $11 and leaving Reno at 8:30 a. m., arrives at Mound House at 10:50, where he will change cars for Sodaville.

After passing Dayton, one of the first settlements in Nevada, founded by the Mormons in the early days, and the famous Sutro tunnel, the traveler finds himself in the town of Wabuska where a good dinner awaits him at 50 cents per.

The Walker Lake Indian reservation and Walker Lake proper are passed in turn. The lake is a beautiful body of water 10 miles wide and 30 long, at the southern end of which lies the town of Hawthorne, the county seat of Esmeralda county. The train stops here for the night, good accommodations can be found at the Nucleus hotel.

At 6 o'clock the next morning the traveler resumes his journey and arrives at Tonopah at 8. At 9 the stage leaves for Tonopah, stopping for dinner at a place called Summit. The traveler who has not had dinner at Summit has certainly missed something. Cold types cannot do it justice so will simply say it is fierce. Arriving at Crow Springs at 5 o'clock a good supper is to be had at the station.

From here to your destination the drive is made after dark, a distance of 25 miles, arriving at Tonopah at 9. From the crowds of hotel runners that greet you you will think that hotels are plenty, but after visiting a wet grocery house of which there are a number, to stake your alkali throat, you will more than likely awake to the fact that your first night in this lively camp must be spent in a bar-room chair. The hotel runners were just a few of Tonopah's jolly miners giving you the glad hand and showing you how welcome you were to what accommodations the town affords.

The writer was fortunate enough to have a friend at court and spent the night on a three-quarter cot. There are 15 such cots in the tent and the proprietor had no trouble in renting them at $10 per month each. The lodger furnishes his own bedding. Aside from sleeping accommodations the traveler will have little or no trouble.

The Tonopah Company, a Philadelphia corporation, managed by J. H. Jenkins, is preparing to sink three three-compartment shafts, two of them will be on the Mirpah vein and the third on the Valley View.

From these he proposes to cross cut the entire company property, consisting of five claims, a depth of 100 feet.

The company also proposes to put in a water plant. It has purchased the Rye Patch property, twelve miles from Tonopah. There is a flow of good water there amounting to 250,000 gallons per day. As Rye Patch is lower than Tonopah, the water will have to be pumped to the camp. Rye Patch is a sag in the desert and water is encountered very close to the surface. The water system will cost $60,000 and will be ample to supply the town and a reduction works. The system is to be completed in ninety days.

In manager Jenkins, the Company has a very capable man and one in whom they repose the utmost confidence, as they have given him almost unlimited authority in the development of their mines.

He has had a wide experience in Nevada, California and Utah and ranks as one of the most capable and conservative mining men on the coast. Since his company is the pioneer of the district he proposes to be right before going ahead and then dispatch the work with all energy.

In putting in this system and sinking the shafts Mr. Jenkins will try to employ all the men now in the camp who are working on the leases that will soon expire.

Plans are being considered for the construction of a reduction plant with a capacity of 100 tons per day.

A number of analyses of the ore have been made and it is known just what sort of work are needed to reduce the ore. One netting $60 a ton and over will be worked in it. This will permit of a dividend of $180,000 a month upon a capitalization of $1,000,000, or 18 cents a share upon the present capitalization.

The company has left the matter of renewing leases entirely in the hands of Mr. Jenkins, who will extend and give new leases on the Burro, Valley View Hill, Silver Top and Desert Queen claims. Mr. Jenkins has requested his company to do this as some of the leasers on these claims have done extensive development work and more is necessary before the leasers will have reached sufficient depth to repay them for the work already done. The royalty will not be increased, but will remain 25 per cent as heretofore.

Mr. Jenkins has been requested by the Nevada Central Railway Company to ship ore by the way of Austin, which lies 100 miles to the east of Tonopah. No definite arrangements have yet been made on this matter.

The Tonopah Mining Company will push development work as rapidly as possible and expects to have at least a thousand men working in six months.

In regard to the other claims there is considerable work going on and very flattering results are being obtained.

The tunnel being run by Robert Gordon and partners from the south end of Oddie mountains for the purpose of cutting all the Tonopah veins, is progressing day and night. Several big offers have been made and refused for this property.

On the Salt Lake Company's property, consisting of three claims, the ore is of a grade equal to any in the camp. On the Stone Cabin claim, owned by this company, which is an extension of the Valley View vein, the ledge is 14 feet in width and a sample of 500 pounds show a value of $186 per ton. Mr. Seaburt, the company's manager, is moving as fast as the difficulties existing in the camp will allow, it being extremely hard to obtain necessary supplies. However, he has a hoist in the course of construction and a 30 H. P. Fairbanks-Morse gasoline engine is now on the road and will no doubt be in place and doing duty in the next twenty days. Mr. Seaburt informed the writer that his company was not booming Tonopah and had no desire to do so as it had no stock for sale at any price. This is the case with the majority of the claim owners in the camp. All are satisfied with what they have and are going quietly to work to make their respective fortunes.

The Gold Hill property, which is owned by Brougher Bros. et al., lies in the southern portion of the district and is producing some wonderful values.

The Tonopah ledges strike east and west, so far as discovered. They are almost perpendicular, with a slight dip to the north. They lie in a porphyritic veinstone of a rhyolite character and are capped by porphyry, except for 1400 feet deep, where they crop.

The gangue is a hard, black quartz in which the values lie in the form of horn silver, gold and a little ruby. The horn silver occurs in various forms. Sometimes it is green, at others grayish black and flexible, but usually it is crystallized and looks like wax.

In the veins there is evidence of motion at one time. Small faults have occurred, but at no place does the throw exceed twelve feet.

The greatest fault will probably be found to the west of the present workings and probably the faults above described were purely sympathetic. The values are the same at the bottom of the workings and there are no signs of deterioration. In some workings the veins have widened as well as held their riches.

Up to the present time a million dollars worth of ore has been shipped. It averaged $187 to the ton. There are still 30,000 tons awaiting shipment, which on a consecutive estimate, will yield $125 to the ton.

Plans of the Company Are Made Public.

This will make the production of the camp for the first six months of its history $4,750,000. This does not include the enormous amount of lower grade ore that was passed by the leasers.

It is the usual custom in measuring ore bodies to consider the depth equal to the length. While only 1400 feet of the ledges are uncovered, if they go that deep, and there is no reason to doubt this, the amount of first grade ore in the camp is close to nine figures. Within a few years the production of Tonopah may make it a close rival of the hitherto unparalleled Comstock, with silver values less than one half what it was in the palmy days of Virginia City.

Eighty per cent of the original leases given have made fortunes for the lucky owners.

There is lots of railroad talk heard in the camp. The San Pedro road, the Nevada Central and the Southern Pacific are believed to be all figuring on reaching out to this wonderful camp.

Town lots are rapidly increasing in value. One lot was sold on Main street the other day for $1500. Residence lots sell for from $150 to $300.

Tonopah is the realization of the brightest dream that ever delighted the prospector.

Investigating Mail Service.

H. W. Watkins, chief clerk-at-large of the Railway Mail Service, paid The Journal office a call yesterday and discussed the uproar that is being made by many of the State papers regarding the alleged inefficiency of the mail service in Nevada.

Mr. Watkins was pleased to learn that The Journal was not joining in the kicks. In fact, this paper has no reason to. The chief clerk was shown proofs of The Journal's mailing galleries, which were arranged according to the suggestions of a postal clerk. Mr. Watkins said:

"I have no doubt that if all the papers in the State used as much care in looking after their papers their complaints would soon cease."

Mr. Watkins says he is ready to do anything in his power to better conditions, if they really need bettering. The postal regulations are such that if any clerks were careless in their work it would quickly be discovered.

DUTY OF DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMEN.

THERE was never a time in the history of American politics when better opportunity was furnished the Democratic party to strengthen itself, and at the same time do good service for the country, than the present. The cost of living has risen above high water mark of normal times and is still advancing; a heavy burden being continuously exacted through governmental instrumentality which goes into the pockets of those who neither need it nor can justly claim it. Gigantic corporations like the steel trust, swell their dividends upon their watered stock from the pockets of the people, simply because the government furnished the opportunity. It would be popular to show the people that the lifting of such burden would ameliorate the condition that needs amelioration, popular because it is just, and there should be no lack of unanimity nor of earnestness in demanding that the tariff be so revised as to equalize the conditions they now affect. There is the question of colonization or imperialism, however it may be designated, than which in general importance there is nothing that exceeds it. These are the two questions of paramount importance and the dominant party is on the wrong side of both. In taking the stand in opposition to the administration, fortunately from a party standpoint, on the first question, it is in conformity with the public good, and of the latter in accord with the Democratic principles upon which this government was founded, and has been maintained for a century and a quarter.

There should be no division among the Democratic members of Congress, for there is nothing upon which to divide; that is, no issue that can be exploited under the existing conditions. There is no necessity to vindicate the position that the party took half a dozen years ago upon a question that must remain in abeyance until changed conditions again bring it to the surface and to the front. Mr. Bryan has shown himself broad minded enough to urge that the tariff revision, and all that it comprehends, and imperialism are the urgent public questions of the day and that upon them primarily and particularly, it is a duty and an opportunity that Democratic Congressmen should welcome, and upon which they should take no uncertain stand. As The Journal said yesterday the resolutions offered in the Democratic Congressional caucus were a mistake. Action and not resolutions is what is needed to unite the Democratic party. Instead of attempting to put together a national platform for 1904. Democratic Congressmen should only furnish the material and leave the construction in other hands. They have an excellent opportunity to do this, and it is not improbable that they will recognize the opportunity, and realize their duty under the conditions afforded of reuniting and reinvigorating the party.

SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

THE post office department has placed certain restrictions upon second-class mail matter, newspapers and periodicals, carried for one cent per pound, which may have worked hardship in some cases and which, in some instances, might seem not to be justified, yet the fact remains that there were serious abuses to be remedied and that the department acted in good faith. The restriction is mainly relative to exclusively advertising papers of free circulation, and general advertising matter which has burdened the mails to such an extent as to entail serious loss to the government. The Postmaster General in his report instances the case of a single free periodical wherein the postage amounted to less than one-half of the cost of transportation. The restrictions will probably inure to the benefit of legitimate publishers in the end. Publications whose cost of production is so small in proportion to the cost of handling them in the mails and which have not enough bona fide subscribers to give them standing as legitimate publications, are really no more entitled to entry to the mails at cheap rates than any poster issued by a drygoods or grocery house. They are primarily advertising sheets and make no real difference that they represent many advertisers instead of only one. Many publishers of legitimate newspapers and periodicals are injured and their subscribers disappointed at the restrictions imposed in the matter of premiums, voting contests, etc. In one way they will be better off after the irregular publications are weeded out.

In this connection, it is worthy of notice that the Peruvian government has abolished postage on all legitimate newspapers and transports them free.

PROBABLY NO REDUCTION.

THE war revenue taxes are not likely to be reduced by this Congress. Secretary Gage in his report points to a number that might well be abolished, but those in control do not intend to have any bill for abolishing them brought forward at present. They want first to find out what expenditures are to be provided for. The argument in favor of delay is that while it is easy at this time to make a fairly accurate estimate of what the surplus will be for the next year or two, no living man has the power to fix the amount of the expenditures and therefore the old heads at the capital are advising that there should be delay framing a tax reduction measure until it can be determined in a general way at least how much money there will be to get rid of. Members of the Finance and Ways and Means committees say that whatever is done, it will not be possible to wipe out all of the taxes, named for abolition by Secretary Gage.

THE Salt Lake Tribune is becoming facetious under its new management. It says "it appears that over 300 hundred children have been named after Senator Hanna, and after this session of Congress perhaps a Subsidy Bill may be added to the number." We may be wrong, but we are willing to wager a small sum that Subsidized Bill will not go to Congress from Utah just yet. Hanna's admirers may continue to name their offspring after him for several years to come.—Utah State Journal.

No. "Subsidized Bill" will not go to Congress from Utah. He is already in the Senate with a certificate of election dated at the capital of Nevada—thanks to a number of "corruption" legislators, Colonel Chin, and the sugar trust.

It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. ## MASON VALLEY MINES

Journal Correspondence
Harriman and Clark End
from a Flourishing
Their War in This
Camp. State.

Manager Pugh of the Ludwig mine will blow in tomorrow morning for a long run with the smelter. Some three weeks ago a start was made, but it was found that another boiler would have to be put in. This has been done and all is in readiness now.

The ores on the 200-foot level are high grade, some of them running from 14 to 62 per cent in copper.

The shaft is now being driven down to the 300-foot level.

Work on the 200-foot level of the Bluestone copper mine has gone along nicely since the closing down of the smelter. A higher grade of ore has been taken out during the past month. A large body of seven per cent ore has been encountered.

It is understood that the Excelsior Company will put in a concentrating plant and work the low grade ores. A big discovery has been made in an old silver mine in Red Canyon. Some twenty years ago a silver mine known as the Boyle mine was located and worked there. Very high grade ore was extracted and shipped to Selby's.

Some three months ago this property fell into the hands of Frank C. Everett, who began work upon it in a systematic manner.

A tunnel 320 feet in length has been run to cross-cut the ledge. A blind ledge was encountered in this tunnel 207 feet from the mouth, which is 16 feet from the hanging wall to the foot wall.

The ore assays from 30 to 600 ounces in silver and from $9.85 to $33.65 in gold. The tunnel will be driven on until ledge No. 2 has been cross-cut, when Mr. Everett will begin shipping ore at once.

Their War in This
Camp. State.

E. H. Harriman and Senator Clark of Montana have temporarily ceased their bitter fight for a right of way in Lincoln county, Nevada, say the dispatches. Both parties have been claiming the best right of way for a road through a narrow defile known as the Meadow Valley wash and a suit over the matter is now pending in the United States Court in this city. By an agreement just signed by the attorney for Harriman's Oregon Short Line and the legal representative of Clark's San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Company, the hearing of the right of way content has been postponed ninety days, as stated in the News several days ago. In the meantime the engineers of both companies are to make their surveys through the defile and the maps are to be used in the trial, if it comes up.

As a Federal statute provides that a road having the right of way through a defile like the one mentioned shall allow trackage arrangements with another road seeking a route through the same place, it is believed that the interested parties will ask the court to decree a joint trackage arrangement for the 140 miles mentioned.

Both the Oregon Short Line and Clark's road have large forces of men at work, and there does not seem to be the slightest doubt that within a year and a half both Harriman and Clark will have roads in operation between Salt Lake and Los Angeles.

Clark must have some understanding with Gould or Hill or both of them for an eastern rail outlet at Salt Lake or he would not be so determined to build a line in opposition to the Harriman road.

Reputed Strike in Wheeler Mine.

Miners that came in from Wedekind City last night reported that the long expected strike in the Wheeler shaft has at last been made. For a week past the bottom of the shaft has been in the blue capping that overhangs the Reno Star lead.

The miners broke through this late in the afternoon. The ore is to all appearances the same that was encountered in the Wedekind and Bell shafts a couple of hundred feet away.

It was also stated, but too late for confirmation, that General Turrittin and Dan Wheeler have disposed of their interests in this property to Sam Wheeler and James Sanders.
